Dear Sir:

I understand that you are very interested in coins and by that token I am wondering if you would care to become an Associate member of our Society. If so, I should be glad to have you fill out and return the enclosed application card.

If you have never visited our Museum, we should be pleased to have you call and make yourself known to us.

Very truly yours,

Curator

Dear Mr. Ives:

The coins we have selected for purchase from the Eklund collection of foreign copper coins are now coming in. At the Council meeting it was reported that the first selection of these coins averaged twenty-one cents each for choice pieces so you can see that your contribution will add a number of these pieces to the Society's cabinet. We would be pleased to receive your contribution at your convenience.

Very truly yours,

Dear Mr. Noe:

The enclosed abstract and the original article from which it is taken may interest you in connection with your coin photographing service:

"Photographing Coins and Medals. P. A. Morris.

Camera (Phila.) 49: 310-11, November, 1934. Specular reflections and glare may be avoided in photographing small uncolored metallic objects if ammonium chloride is condensed on the surface. Atomizers in jars of hydrochloric acid and ammonia may be used for spraying the objects."

Very truly yours,

Herbert E. Ives
